VERY REV. WILLIAM J. MURPHY, S.J.

§ The buildings on the Heights are planted as enduringly as ever, and the same hills image their trees in the waters below; yet there is a sense of impermanence about the College as the new year commences. There are still between eight and nine hundred students on the campus, about one-half of them in uniform. You may hear the hoarse, "one, two, three, four" shouted from a distance, or the sharp "ship" under your window as they start in formation for the recitation buildings. The laboratories are thronged all day with students in khaki or in mufti. The civilian students, most of them under the draft age, seem to be poised, expectant, waiting for a sudden call. And our thoughts are largely with the students of yesterday and yesteryear who are now scattered over the circle of the planet.

Our thoughts are both proud and hopeful. We are proud of the fidelity and signal bravery that the Alumni have shown in the defense of their country. We are hopeful that through their courage and vision victory may really mean peace. In this the Alumni who have not had to leave civilian life have as great a stake and perhaps a greater obligation. All of us realize that these years of violence will have had little meaning, if the statesmen of the world are going to be content with trimming hedges. If their finality imposes upon itself the limit of material prosperity, we may know that we are not at an end of an era, but are marking time until the next catastrophe. But if the spiritual aspects of justice, the inviolability of the human personality, the sanctity of human rights at home and abroad—if, in a word, the immaterial is considered as vital as raw materials, we may hope for better things to come.

A. S. T. P. at B. C.

Father Rector and Dean Mulcahy welcome
Major John R. Canavan

On Monday morning at 11 A. M. on July 26, two army trucks rolled up to St. Mary's Hall. Soldiers and baggage landed simultaneously on the ground before its entrance filled with newspaper photographers. Two weeks later, on August 9, 485 students who had arrived in Boston from all over the country began classes under the Army Specialized Training Program. The Army had come to Boston College.

In command of the student soldiers is Major John R. Canavan of Dorchester, a Harvard graduate and brother of Lieut. Richard F. Canavan, '38. Major Canavan came to the Heights after many months in the South Pacific, where he had been stationed in Australia, New Caledonia, Guadalcanal and the Fiji Islands. His staff consists of three lieutenants.

The soldiers quartered at St. Mary's are divided into two groups according to the courses they are taking, the Foreign Area and Language group and the Engineering group. The weekly scholastic program for the Foreign Area group, those studying French, Spanish, or German, is: Instruction (grammar), 5 hours; Drill (conversation), 12 hours; Geography, 10 hours. The program for the Engineering group is: English, 3 hours; History, 3 hours; Geography, 2 hours; Math, 6 hours; Chemistry, 3 hours; Physics, 7 hours. Both groups take Physical Education 6 hours a week and Military Drill, 5 hours.

The program for the present two groups will last nine months, divided into three terms of twelve weeks each. The academic phase of the program is under the jurisdiction of the college authorities and faculty teaching the curriculum prescribed by the A.S.T.P. Physical Education is under the direction of John Curley, Graduate Manager of the Athletic Association, assisted by Moody Sarno, Jack Ryder and John Conroy.

The weekly work-schedule for the soldiers is: Reveille, 6.30; Breakfast, 7.00; Classes or prescribed study, 8.00 to noon; Dinner, 12.15; Classes or prescribed study, 1.20 to 5.20; Supper, 6.30; Study, 7.40 to 10.00; Taps, 10.30. No soldier is allowed to leave the campus except when given leave, which is usually from Saturday afternoon to Sunday afternoon.

At St. Mary's Hall the soldiers live four or six to a room, each room furnished with double-decker bunks and desks. Meals are furnished by Howard Johnson's, and, shades of the past, two women also reside in the building! Yes, two nurses assigned to the Infirmary.

After the arrival of the soldiers came the second invasion. It was discovered that many were married men whose wives had been waiting for them to report to the College before joining them. After much telephoning and telegraphing they appeared in Boston, perhaps still not appreciating the worry of their husbands who had to obtain apartments or rooms without being able to leave the campus because of regulations. A picture to remember is that of a young private at ten o'clock one July evening nervously trying to arrange accommodations for his wife and baby back in Indiana. He did it.

Of all the B. C. men in the A. S. T. P., only one returned to the Heights, Private Cunneiff a former student at the Business School.

ON THE HEIGHTS

When the Army moved in the Jesuits moved out. With a little patience a particular priest may be found in one of the two residences on Commonwealth Avenue, or on Beacon Street, or at the Museum, or at the Liggett estate, OR on College Road. It is even suspected that a recent erected behind the Philomathia Club is occupied by one of the Fathers with inclinations toward army life. About the only common meeting place is the Refectory, which is the half of the cafeteria facing Alumni Field. The chapel is still used, and the Treasurer's office still remains open. But other than that St. Mary's Hall is a memory for the faculty. The President's office may be found in the Library building. The Business School, which has spent much of its time in a moving van since it opened at 126 Newbury Street, has returned to the Tower building. The Placement Bureau moved to the third floor without Mr. George Donaldson, who entered the Army September 1. The various offices at the Liggett estate set aside for student activities have also been transferred, and are sandwiched in here and there in the Tower building. With fewer students, B. C. is crowded.

Under the accelerated program the College operates on a twelve-month basis. Summer vacations for the students were limited to four weeks for each class. Many of the Seniors had no vacation at all in their desire to obtain a degree before being called to duty. The class of 1944 will graduate the end of November, almost one full year ahead of time.

An unusual condition brought about by the accelerated program is the existence this month of six classes, Senior, Junior, two Sophomore and two Freshman. This is explained by the fact that the Freshmen entering in February have just become Sophomores, while the Sophomores (s.g.) have only completed one-half of their second year, and that two new Freshman classes entered, one in June, the other in September.

One year ago about 1700 students registered at the College and Business School. This year, excluding the soldiers, there are about 1480. When the attendance in the Business School for the Junior class was taken one student responded. The President, Secretary, Treasurer, and the class itself is Mr. John Hogan. The low mark for both schools will be reached in November after the graduation of the Senior class. Then about 350 students will be left.

Fewer students and less hours in the curriculum for philosophy have resulted in several of the Jesuit faculty leaving the College. In fact all of the Fathers at the Business School have gone. Fathers Collins, S.J., McManus, S.J., and Shea, S.J., have been transferred to B. C. High. Father Barrett, S.J., has gone to St. Mary's Church in the North End. Two professors of philosophy have left, Father Low, S.J., to Campion Hall at North Andover, and Father Flaherty, S.J., to Fairfield Preparatory School in Connecticut.

Several of the Fathers are waiting for commissions to become effective in the Navy. Rev. John L. Bonn, S.J., has already reported for duty.

Student activities valiantly strive to continue. For the most part the Stylus and Heights have succeeded, although there is no guarantee they will have the same editors for any two successive issues. Under distressing circumstances the class of 1944 is determined to produce a Sub Turri. Trying to obtain pictures of classmates already in the service is no easy task.

LAW SCHOOL

The third annual Red Mass will be celebrated on Saturday, October 9 at 10 o'clock, at the Immaculate Conception Church, Boston. The address will be delivered by Rev. John J. Wright, '31, of St. John's Seminary.

Introduced two years ago in Boston by Rev. William J. Kenealy, S.J., former Dean of the Law School, the Red Mass is the solemn votive Mass of the Holy Spirit, celebrated at the beginning of the judicial year, attended by judges and lawyers for the purpose of invoking God's guidance and blessing in the administration of justice. Its traditional name, the Red Mass, is probably derived from the fact that the vestments worn by the officers of the Mass are red, and the robes of the attending judges were, in ancient days, bright scarlet. Moreover, the petition of the Mass seeks the aid of the Holy Spirit, symbolized by the flaming fire of Divine Love and Wisdom.

The War

✠ The Honor Roll continues to increase in large numbers. To date the total number of Boston College men in the service is 3500, an increase of 700 since May. Such an increase is due in part to the call to duty in July of students in the Marine Corps, Navy, and Army Reserves. On September 23 another group reported for duty with the Marine Corps. In November one of the last Navy groups will report. How many more Boston College men will enter the service is difficult to decide; but it seems that the four thousand figure will eventually be reached.

Twenty-six have died, 9 are missing, and 4 are prisoners of war; 26 men have acquired 34 honors. Six have been commended for bravery.

A survey reveals 1254 to be commissioned officers. The breakdown according to rank is as follows: Army and Marine Corps, Lieut.-General, 1; Lieut.-Colonels, 12; Majors, 34; Captains, 107; Lieutenants (1st and 2nd), 471. Navy and Coast Guard: Commanders, 6; Lieut.-Commanders, 15; Lieutenants (j.g. and s.g.), 296; Ensigns, 312.

The following is a full report from May to September:

Deceased

Dr. Arnold J. O'Donnell, '36, Lieutenant, Army. Dr. O'Donnell was captured when the Philippines fell. His parents were informed by the War Department that he had died in a Japanese camp, June 11. Four of his brothers attended Boston College, Ensigns Raymond G., '39; Vincent A., '39; John A., ex-'43, and Neil, also in the Navy.

Thomas M. Roddy, ex-'39, Lieutenant, U. S. N. R.. Previously reported missing when the U. S. S. Juneau was sunk in the Pacific in 1942. His brothers are Ensign Luke J., '33, and William A., '46, Business School.

George D. Cuning, '37, Private, Army. Previously reported missing. Proceeding to Greenland, he died when ship was sunk, February 3. Received the Purple Heart posthumously.

Robert E. McGehearty, '41, Ensign, Coast Guard. Was stationed on the Coast Guard cutter the U. S. S. Escanaba when it was sunk in North Atlantic waters in June.

George D. Cormier, '46, Private, Army. Killed in automobile accident at Camp Devens in July.

Dr. Thomas A. Barry, '32, Lieutenant, U. S. N. R. Died of malaria somewhere in the South Pacific, August 4.

Melvin G. Carr, Jr., Intown, Cadet, U. S. N. R. Died in an airplane crash at Pensacola, Fla., in August.

Paul M. Kelly, '41, Tech. Sergeant, Army Air Corps. Killed in the European area, August 31.

Missing in Action

Jack R. Brodsky, Intown, Private, Army. Missing since January 7 at Guadalcanal.

William H. Broley, ex-'39, Lieutenant, Army Air Corps. Missing since May 14 over Europe. He has received the Air Medal for heroic work in bombing over Bremen, Germany, April 18.

Eugene J. Canty, ex-'40, Ensign, U. S. N. R. He was stationed on the U. S. S. Maddox which was sunk off Sicily during the invasion, July 10. His brother is James M., '43, also in the Navy.

Stephen J. Joyce, '35, Ensign, U. S. N. R. Reported missing on September 11, probably in the Southwest Pacific.

Robert W. Blakeney, '45, Staff Sergeant, Army Air Corps. A radio operator and gunner on a Liberator bomber of the Ninth Air Force stationed in the Middle East, he has been operating over Sicily and Italy. Sergeant Blakeney was a sophomore when he enlisted. He went overseas July 6.

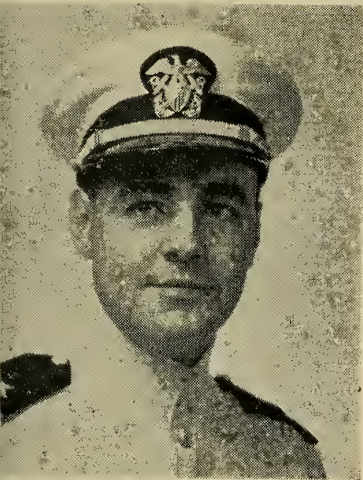

Prisoners

George T. Trudell, '36, Lieutenant, Navy Air Corps. Had been missing since the Battle of the Philippines. His wife received a letter from him in July stating he was a prisoner in a Japanese camp. He has received the Silver Star for bravery at Corrigidor.

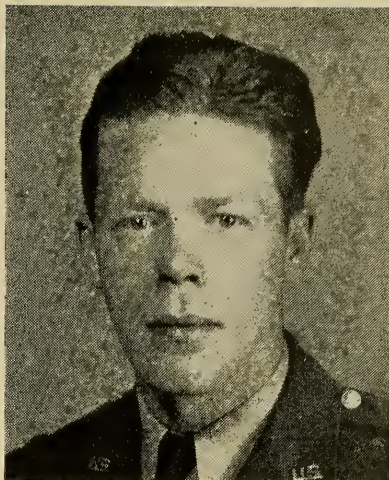

Arthur V. Cullen, '40, Captain, Army Air Corps. Reported previously to be missing in action over Europe. Is in a German prison. His parents first received the news by short wave from Europe on July 31.

Honors

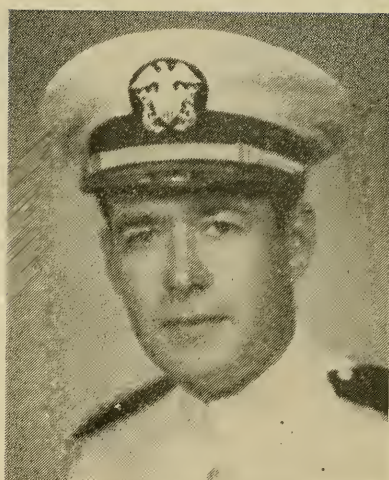

John A. O'Toole, '39, Ensign, U. S. N. R. Deceased. Recipient of the Navy Cross and the Purple Heart. The citation accompanying the Navy Cross states: "for extraordinary heroism and fearless devotion to duty as commander of a boat wave from the U. S. S. Joseph Hewes during the assault on and the occupation of French Morocco from November 8 to November 11, 1942. During intense naval and shore bombardment, Ensign O'Toole skillfully organized and led his boat wave toward the beach in the face of devastating and concentrated fire of hostile forces which threatened annihilation of troops before they could debark. With no thought of his own danger, he then stood at the wheel of his boat, calmly directing the unloading of personnel and equipment and the saving of as many of the navy craft as possible. After directing a squad of machine gunners to safety through the barrage, Ensign O'Toole attempted to withdraw from the beach but was killed by enemy fire. His great personal valor and relentless fighting spirit in the face of grave peril served as an inspiring example in the accomplishment of a vital mission. He gallantly gave up his life in the service of his country."

Rev. Arthur F. McQuaid, ex-'27, Lieutenant, U. S. N. R. Purple Heart. He was severely wounded in the South Pacific in 1942.

Valter R. Gallagher, '39, Lieutenant, Army Air Corps. Air Medal for "meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flights in the Southwest Pacific."

Donald V. Mulcahy, '40, Ensign, U. S. N. R. Navy and Marine Corps Medal for heroism in South America. The citation says in part: "Ensign Mulcahy, at a great risk to his own life boarded the burning S. S. _____, which had been abandoned, and in the face of grave danger from gasoline explosions, assisted in fighting the fire and in casting off the mooring lines of that vessel so that she could be towed away, thereby preventing damage to one U. S. man-of-war, shore establishments, and other ships."

Edward A. Walsh, '41, Lieutenant, U. S. M. C. Purple Heart. Injured while on duty in the South Pacific.

Sherald F. Russell, '40, Captain, U. S. M. C. Commended for "bravery and devotion to duty under adverse conditions during engagements with the enemy in the British Solomon Islands area. . . . He was responsible for the continued functioning of the highly important warning system which resulted in the saving of many lives and valuable material."

Henry P. Keenan, '40, Corporal, Army. Commended for heroism in the African campaign.

John B. Doyle, Jr., '40, Lieutenant, U. S. M. C. Silver Star Medal for heroism at Guadalcanal.

"Lieutenant Doyle on November 2, 1942, during the offensive action in the vicinity of the Matanikau River, Guadalcanal, Solomon Islands, showed special courage by descending a steep, wooded hill west of the Matanikau River to attend the wounded. Lieutenant Doyle was under such heavy mortar and machine gun fire that one of the wounded men he was trying to carry back was killed in Lieutenant Doyle's hands. Lieutenant Doyle carried out his task with no thought of his personal safety, and succeeded in retrieving three wounded men." His father is John B. Doyle, '99. His brother is Jeremiah Doyle, '31.

Norman R. Pilote, '39, Lieutenant, Army Air Corps. He has received the Distinguished Flying Cross. This is in addition to the Air Medal and Purple Heart.

Walter R. Daley, ex-'27, Lieutenant (j.g.), Navy. Commended for "outstanding devotion to duty" as commanding officer of a naval armed guard on a merchant ship repeatedly subjected to enemy bombing.

In the News

Lieutenant (j.g.) James H. Rodenbush, ex-'41, U. S. N. R., risked his life saving Navy men when the gunboat, the U. S. S. Plymouth on which he was stationed, went down off the North Carolina coast on August 5.

Henry J. Sheehan, '41, has joined the "First Department." He is the first B. C. man known to have landed on Sicily with the Army in the campaign in July.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION CHANGES

☛ Jeremiah W. Mahoney, '21, of West Roxbury, has announced his resignation as President of the Alumni Association. He will be succeeded by John A. Canavan, '18, of Winthrop, the present First Vice-President.

In announcing his resignation Mr. Mahoney issued the following statement: "While I agreed that it appeared impractical to hold the annual election of officers this year, I desired to be relieved of the responsibilities of the office of President, and I am tendering my resignation effective October 1.

After seven years of service as a member of the governing board of your Association, I retire with a feeling of sincere regret, but in full confidence that, with the continued co-operation of Father Rector, the inspiring guidance of Father Low, our spiritual director, and the support of the faithful in the alumni body, the Association will flourish to greater heights under my successor and his associates on the Board.

Limitations of space alone preclude my detailing to you the individuals and groups to whom I would like to express particular and public appreciation for their valued assistance and encouragement during my service. I am sure they know I am grateful."

Mr. Mahoney has served on the Alumni Board since 1936 as Director (1936-39); Second Vice-President (1939-40); First Vice-President (1940-41); President (1941-43). He is associated with the law firm Lyne, Woodworth and Evarts, Boston.

The new President, Mr. Canavan, '18, of Winthrop, served as Second Vice-President during 1940-41, and as First Vice-President from 1941 to the present time. He is a member of the law firm Mulcahy, Canavan and Troy, Boston. He was formerly First Assistant United States Attorney, Special Assistant to the United States Attorney General, a member of the Boston College Law School faculty, and President of the Kiwanis Club of Winthrop.

Rev. Francis E. Low, S.J., '11, will retain the position of Faculty Advisor, although he has been assigned to Campion Hall, North Andover. The change was due to conditions caused by the war, the small student enrollment at the College resulting in a consequent reduction of the faculty in the Department of Philosophy.

John J. Hayes, '30, of Brighton, has been appointed Executive Secretary after serving two years as Acting Executive Secretary. He had been a member of the Arts and Sciences faculty in the Department of Romance Languages since 1933.

John C. Gill, '31, of Arlington, has terminated his services as Executive Secretary to assume the position of Port Area Executive of the United Seamen's Service. For the past two years he had been Assistant Field Supervisor with the National Catholic Community Service, one of the agencies administering the U. S. O. program.

1943 COMMENCEMENT IN TWO SECTIONS

Due to the accelerated program the class of 1943 of the College of Arts and Sciences, and the School of Business Administration graduated February 28, with exercises held at the Immaculate Conception Church, Boston. Rev. Leonard Feeney, S.J., addressed two hundred and ninety-seven graduates.

On Sunday, June 13, one hundred and nine graduates of the School of Law, School of Social Work, the Graduate School, and the Intown School, received their degrees. At exercises conducted in the Library building, they listened to the address delivered by John J. Hagerty, A.B., LL.B., LL.D.

ALUMNI DAY

Despite a gloomy rain that washed out all outdoor activities, including the ball game, four hundred graduates returned to the Heights to observe Alumni Day on June 7.

John A. Canavan, '18, presiding over the business meeting, announced the awarding posthumously of the William V. McKenney Medal to the most illustrious alumnus of the year, Commander John J. Shea, '18, who lost his life on the aircraft carrier the "Wasp." At the same time a service flag was presented to the College on which was one gold star representing the seventeen men who up to June had lost their lives in this war, and one blue star or the twenty-seven hundred men in the service.

Gathered together at the dinner were graduates from the anniversary classes, 1918, 1923, 1928, 1933, and 1938. Representing the fifty year class, 1893, was Rev. Maurice O'Connor.

After the presentation of gifts to the College by the anniversary classes, Very Rev. William J. Murphy, S.J., addressed the group.

William J. O'Sullivan, '14, was chairman of the day.

ATHLETICS AT BOSTON COLLEGE

The two volume series of "Athletics at Boston College" will probably go to press soon. This will happen, if a sufficient amount of the $6,000 necessary for publication is received. As the cost of each volume is in excess of the minimum charged, it is necessary for Guarantors ($25.00), Sponsors ($10.00), and Subscribers ($5.00) to guarantee expenses. The price of this book upon publication will not be below the five dollar minimum at any time in fairness to those who have helped by their co-operation.

Photographs of players and squads in uniform are still wanted. Hockey pictures are especially needed.

Subscription lists close soon. Please make payments to the author, Nathaniel J. Hasenbas, '22, 15 Kirk Street, West Roxbury.

Football or no football, that is the question.

At the time of going to press no authoritative statement has come from the Athletic Association whether the College will field a team this year.

However, Moody Sarno had candidates report this month and daily drills take place on Alumni Field. With all of the talent of last year gone into the service, he has been trying to determine whether he can fashion a squad from the material available. The odds would seem to be against him, since the Navy has just called to duty the majority of the Seniors. If he succeeds, the team will consist almost entirely of Sophomores and Freshmen.

Last Summer Hollywood moved to the Heights when shots were taken for the "Iron Major," the film portraying the life of Coach Major Cavanaugh. Charlie Furbush and Eddie Doherty were among the extras engaged.

PLACEMENT BUREAU

The younger classes will be interested to learn that the director of the Placement Bureau, George Donaldson, '29, was married in August to the former Genevieve Steffy of Hyde Park, and that he was drafted into the Army September 1.

JESUIT PRISONERS

The War Department this month made public a list of Jesuits who are now prisoners in the Philippines. Included are Rev. Vincent J. Kennally, S.J., '18, Rev. Walter F. Hyland, S.J., ex-'22, Rev. Bernard F. Doucette, S.J., '19, and Rev. Russell M. Sullivan, S.J., former Freshman Dean.

A Letter By Lt. Thomas A. Barry, '32, U. S. N. R.

The following letter was one of the last written by Lieutenant Thomas A. Barry, '32, U. S. N. R., before he died of malaria August 4 in the South Pacific. It was sent to his sister.

July 17, 1943.

Dear Mary:

I write filled with spiritual emotion, for we just come from a native village on another island. I went there with Father Daley (B. C. O) and can readily understand why missionaries hate to leave their posts and return to our so-called civilized world. This place was heaven in the midst of war. A tiny village tucked away in the palms. The natives could be seen running along the shore to the place where we landed. They came out in their wooden canoes, hewed from a solid tree, and took us in. The natives were dressed for the occasion (usually the women had nothing but skirts on). Here they were fully dressed, likewise the men. One called Peter was the teacher. He had a large cross hanging from his neck and is the person who instructs the people while the priest is away. They filed into church, the women on one side and the men on the other. One of the boys served Mass and his Latin was perfect. They sang in the native language and in their simplicity and innocence seemed like angels attending Our Savior. They all went to Holy Communion and prayed, sang Latin songs and answered the Ave Maria and Salve Regina, in Latin. Such devotion I have never seen before, not even in Harlem. The background was laid years ago by the Marist Fathers. The feeling one has at such a service is, why ever leave such services to God? One actually feels in the presence of some outstanding missionary when this takes place. The priest baptized several of the babies and as he was leaving all crowded around and kissed his hand. A scene so often seen in pictures but not in life. One feels insignificant at such a ceremony. One sees the Church triumphant, the true living Church in action. One actually envies the priest. Even though the Militantist is supreme at present the Church will live through to rule.

FATHER "J. F. X."

JUBILEE OF REV. JOHN FRANCIS XAVIER MURPHY, S.J.

On August 15, Father John Francis Xavier Murphy celebrated his fifty years as a member of the Society of Jesus. The Alumni offer him their heartiest congratulations on the completion of so long a period of fruitful labor in the Master's service, and all wish him a most fervent "Ad multos annos." Father Murphy was born in Nashua, New Hampshire in 1876, the Centennial Year of our Independence; he has always been noted for his sterling Americanism. After graduating from Nashua High and completing a short turn as a teacher, he entered the Society of Jesus at Frederick, Maryland, in 1893. He followed the usual program of study in the Jesuit order, supplemented by courses pursued at John Hopkins University. The first two years of his regency were spent at Boston College High School, where he made such an impression on B. C. men that his memory is fondly cherished by many of the older alumni. Two years of teaching were pursued at St. Francis Xavier's College, New York, and then followed his theological studies at Woodstock, Maryland, where in 1909 he was ordained to the priesthood by Cardinal Gibbons. After completing his theology he taught History at St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia, and at Holy Cross. Then came what was perhaps the happiest and greatest year of his life, when during 1912 and 1913 Father Murphy studied Ascetical Theology in Ireland at Tullabeg; ever a deep lover of Erin, this year meant much to him. On his return to the States he began his long career as a Professor of History, lecturing at Fordham, Regis High of New York, Georgetown, Holy Cross and Boston College. For the last fourteen years Father Murphy has been here at the Heights, working in the Department of History, both in the Graduate and Undergraduate Schools.

In all the history of Boston College, there have been few, if any, professors more popular or more deeply beloved than the Reverend Jubilarian. It is a common sight to see Father Murphy's jolly, rotund figure in the center of a knot of students, expatiating on some historical problem, punctuating the seriousness of the discussion with sallies of sparkling wit to the delight of his devoted auditors. A notice that J. F. X. is going to give a lecture has but to be put up and the hall will be crowded out into the corridors with an enthusiastic throng, eagerly expecting the exhaustive treat in store, for it will be exhaustive one can be sure of that. The breadth of Father Murphy's knowledge of History is truly astonishing — astounding, perhaps, would be the better word to convey the range of his knowledge. Of no one are Goldsmith's words truer, "and still the wonder grew that one small head could carry all he knew." But no mere pedant is Father J. F. X.; he has had the happy faculty of seasoning his vast erudition with a delightful humor. His wit, his clever illustrations and his bright sallies have become a tradition at B. C. In the midst of his wide learning and his happy outlook, perhaps because of them, stand other characteristics, his courage and his devotion. No man has displayed greater courage in upholding his ideals, no man has served truth with greater devotion. What especially has endeared Father J. F. X. to B. C. men is that he has inspired them with this strong courage and this boundless devotion. Father Murphy may be said to have three chief loyalties. The first is the Catholic Church, his spiritual mother; in her cause there is no toil too hard for this loyal son. Then comes America, his native land, and Ireland, his sireland in the ambience of his devotion. All his years Father Murphy has labored and fought for these three, not only in the classroom, but on the lecture platform in the wider circle of Catholic Societies, especially throughout Greater Boston and New England. May God grant Father J. F. X. many more years to instruct and inspire the men of Boston College.

Parade of the Classes

John B. Doyle has announced the association of Lark and Doyle, with offices at 527 Fifth Avenue, New York. He is rather proud of John Jr., 10, who was decorated at Guadalcanal. Two boys, Richard and Jerome, '31, are with the F. B. I.; Kevin is in the Navy, and Michael is in the Army.

900

A visitor to Cuba met the Boston College Club of that country last spring, consisting of James H. Kenrigan, Director of Athletics at the University of Havana, and Eusebio Dardet, who attended the College from about 1898-1900. He is the National Tourist Commissioner of Cuba.

910

William Mack's daughter, Mary Gertrude, was married in July to Lt. (j. g.) John Geary, '36. His son, Francis X., '42, entered the Army in August, and has been assigned to Tufts Medical School, Boston.

911

James Cotter's boy, James, left the College to enter the Army as a cadet in the Army Specialized Training Program. He is at North Campood, Texas.

914

JOHN S. KEOHANE
2 Acacia Avenue, Chestnut Hill
Condolences are extended to Dr. Tom Reid whose brother, Father Edward, died this summer.
Rev. Patrick J. Flaherty has been appointed pastor of St. Mary of the Sacred Heart, South Hanover.
Bill O'Sullivan's boys left B. C. for the Army in July.

915

PHILIP J. BOND
33 Houston Street, West Roxbury
George E. Casey made a trip last this summer from his home in Hollywood, California. George is head of the English department in the Jesuit High School in Los Angeles. He was interested in learning about the members of the class after an absence of twenty years. Write to him, 5156 Franklin Avenue, Hollywood.

Father John J. Allston spent his vacation at Allerton this summer. He is still the handsomest member of the class, but admits that a certain "Husky" is pressing him hard.

Father Thomas P. Dowling was recently appointed pastor of St. Mary's Parish, Foxboro. Other newly appointed pastors are: Father George S. Brennan, St. Mary's, Georgetown; Father Lawrence P. Morrisroe, St. Joseph's, Kingston; Father James P. Grimes, St. John the Baptist, Essex.
Thomas E. G. Cotter's son, Thomas, Jr., is somewhere in Europe, a captain in the heavy artillery and adjutant of his regiment.

Thomas F. Galvin with more than twenty years service in the Boston schools is now on sabbatical leave. Tom plans a year of travel within the country.

JAMES L. O'BRIEN
41 Pondred Circle, Jamaica Plain

Leo Daly has been appointed Head Master of Mechanic Arts High School, Boston. Leo will be an excellent principal and will have a great influence on the boys. We expect great things from Leo. This is only the beginning.

Father George Casey has been attending the Chaplain's School at Harvard.

Father Edwin Walsh is a lieutenant in the Navy. Recently he was met in South America by another B. C. man who wrote an enthusiastic letter home about the fine work being done by him.

Fred Gillis was in the City Hospital for a few days but everything is now O. K. Fred has two boys in foreign service.

Congratulations to Father Bill Daly on his promotion to Supervisor of Parochial Schools.

Steve Fitzgerald's father and mother recently celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary. Father John Cunningham kindly called it to our attention and the class was represented at the anniversary Mass by Father Laque, S.J., and Al Brennan. Al received a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Brennan which said in part: "We give thanks to God who has blessed us with children, and to our friends and their friends who have remembered us with so many Masses and prayers for our present and future happiness. We know that the memory of Stephen was in the hearts of his 1916 class, and prompted the marvelous gift of spiritual benefits coming to us through the five year membership in the Jesuit Seminary Guild."

JOHN J. MAHONEY
7 Avery Road, Wellesley

We are all saddened to learn of the death of Father Frank Twomey July 25. He was the senior curate at St. Charles Church, Woburn, where he had served for 17 years.

Father Frank Quinn was the eulogist and Father Tony Laverty, deacon of the Requiem Mass. Bishop Cushing headed more than 50 priests and a host of friends and parishioners who were present evidencing the high esteem in which Father Frank was held. May God rest his soul.

George Holland's boy, George, Jr., entered the freshman class in June at the Heights.

Word was received last month of the death in Jersey City of Father Hohman, our chemistry professor. He was stationed at St. Peter's College, having been head of the chemistry department.

Our condolences are extended to 'Vin' Burke on the death last May of his father who was Chief of Police in Newton at the time of his retirement in 1930. Also to "Bill" Reid whose brother, Father Edward, died last month.

John McCarty was commissioned a captain in the Army in July and is presently stationed at Selective Service headquarters in Boston. Another addition to the group who have been in service in two wars.

The writer finds that he will have to forego the pleasure of gathering the news for this column and wishes to thank all who passed along to him those items which they thought would be of interest to their classmates. We should remember that for many of those at a distance the NEWS is the only source of information of this kind. A lift now and then for the news gatherer means a lift for all the men.

JOHN M. O'LOUGHLIN
631 Fellsway, Medford

 The class celebrated a rather quiet 25th anniversary in June. The war and the rain were against us. In a manner worthy of a business tycoon Father Remi Schuver applied some high pressure methods and the result was a gift of about $2100 to the College. Among those who heard the awarding of the Alumni Medal to Commander Jack Shea were Ray Cahill, Father Joe Benard, Harold Anderson, Charlie Sexton, Charlie Fitzgerald, Bill Cashin, John Corcoran, Father John Flanigan, Dr. Ed Kickham, John Canavan, Martin Kane, Dan Murphy and Paul Lynch. Paul Lynch, by the way, has received an honorable discharge from the Army.

FRANCIS J. ROLAND
11 Beacon Street, Boston

 William A. Hagan, a classmate of ours in Freshman, has been living for several years at Greenwich, Connecticut, with business offices at 99 Wall Street, New York.

Rev. Joseph P. McNamara now holds the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel in the Army.

Chris Garrahan's boy, Christopher, a sophomore at the Heights, will report for duty October 2 in the Army Reserve.

Next June we shall observe the twenty-fifth anniversary of our graduation from the College. Although Alumni Day is several months away, keep the date in mind. We hope to have a large group present. Make sure your address is up to date, so we may be able to keep you informed.

alumni office

dear john—

you know it's tough enough to dig up notes for you without some of the boys holding us up (figuratively) and our class committee on vital statistics is way up in the air because of a recent report from belmont that eddie higgins has a priority from the stork but delivery cannot be guaranteed before october so we wont mention that this issue but will just say that first lieutenant leo aicardi has made maxwell field hotter than ever this summer and that when the class reunion is held in november that our favorite candidate for the class president will now have to be john degnan whom we chanced to "meat" up with this summer and we were certainly glad to see john because since then we've certainly had some "good beafs" coming and before we close we'll give you the latest government release who is gerry cleary and if more of the "forty thieves" aren't mentioned here and want to make anything of it, let them come to the class dinner and throw the present officers out and put some real guys in who'll be on the job i thank you.

GORDON F. IRONS
9 Emmonsedale Road, West Roxbury

 William J. Cunningham is now principal of the Abraham Lincoln district in the South End.

Charles Coyle represented Mayor Tobin at the Polish exhibit held at Jordan March Co. Sept. 1.

George T. White is Secretary of the B. C. Club of Connecticut. He is also Commissioner of the Eastern Prep Football Association.

We are sorry to report the death of Andrew Bacigalupo, ex-'21.

The sympathy of the class is extended to Robert Foy whose father passed away recently.

James Gookin has been released from the Army and is back at his old job at the Sumner Tunnel.

Jerry Mahoney met Lieutenant-Commander Frank De Celles in Washington this summer.

1922

NATHANIEL J. HASENFUS
15 Kirk Street, West Roxbury

 The class is sorry to learn that Father Joseph Reith, S.J., formerly professor of Biology, is interned by the Japanese in the Philippines.

Dan Hayes has returned from the West. His son is in his second year at B C. High.

Your old correspondent was issued a coastal identification card by none other than the old B. C. football captain, Phil Couhig, now captain of the Port of Bath, Maine.

John Barry has received real commendation for his broadcast to the American soldiers in England. Congratulations are due Father James H. Doyle on his appointment as Director of Catholic Charities.

Father Thomas E. Sweeney is still holding forth in Natick, as is Father Cornelius Sherlock in Lynn.

Robert Walsh, a former '22 man, has been with Stewart and Williams, contractors, at the Naval Air Station Brunswick, Maine.

FRANCIS L. FORD
26 Ellison Avenue, Dorchester

 Our deep appreciation and the of Father Rector and the College i extended to the more than thirty members of the class who contributed so generously to the Twenty Year Class gift. The presentation was made on Alumni Day with about twenty members of our class present. Keep in mind that if you were unable to contribute at that time, the Loyalty Fund is always ready to accept any contribution that you might wish to make.

Father William Carty, now a Major in the Army, reported for duty in August at New Orleans.

Dr. Leo R. Desmond, Dorchester physician whose home is in Milton, has received a captain's commission in the Medical Corps, AUS, and is stationed at the Tilton General Hospital, Fort Dix, N. J. The above information was released in early summer, so his address may have been changed in the meantime.

Shortly after our June issue appeared a letter was received from Father Charles F. Engewall who is now chaplain in the Army, and who is stationed at Nashville, Tenn. He writes that he has been in the service in the South for the past ten months in Georgia, Florida and Tennessee, and finds the work interesting with the Southerners. He is a first lieutenant with the 117th Infantry. The rest of the address at that time was A.P.O. 30, c-o Postmaster.

ashville, (2), Tenn.

Ferry Coughlin spent the summer at the Hingham shipyard in connection with the office force of that huge plant.
Send along all your news for our next issue.

ANTHONY E. LE BLANC
5 Maynard Street, Arlington

 The office of "Class Scribe is not all that it appears to be or should be. Your correspondent is perfectly willing to continue in this position, but in order to function needs the cooperation of many more in reporting the activities of the men in 1924. The telephone and the U. S. Mail are still available and usable, so please!

How about some news regarding some of the long lost brothers, to wit:

Mike Atkins, Tom Berkley, Tom Holleran, "Mike" Connolly, Martin Orsey, Tom Eustis, etc.—to mention only a few.

Jim Kelly spent the summer at Situate. "Jim" is married and has two daughters. During the school season he is Superintendent of the Junior High School in Mansfield and is a very busy and active person in the civic affairs of that town.

Joe Turnbull is connected with the EC in the Boston office. Joe is married and makes his home in Milton. Lieutenant Walter Conway was married on August 30 to Miss Marie I. Mullin of Cambridge. He has been on active duty in the Navy.

WILLIAM ARTHUR REILLY
4 Arborway, Jamaica Plain

 Word has been received that the Reverend Richard J. Hawko, Flying Chaplain for the American Catholics throughout the Guineas, has a much sicker parish these days than he ever had as a priest back in Boston. Father Hawko entered the Army as a Chaplain in 1941 and went overseas in July, 1942.

Senator Eugene Giroux has been appointed by Governor Saltonstall to a 7500 position in the Alcoholic Beverage Commission for the Commonwealth. The Class will bear this in mind on the occasion of our next meeting.

Bill O'Brien is active in the Chicago C. Club. He reports that our ex-classmate, Paul Ludovic is in the Navy and is now overseas.

Reverend Jeremiah F. Gearin, of the Sacred Heart Church, Lynn, was among those sworn into the Navy Chaplain Corps in February 14.

Joe Kozlowski had great success as coach of the basketball team of Cambridge Latin last year, continuing to prove that a good athlete can be a good coach also.

Bill Doyle has bought a new home in Newton, large enough not only to take care of his eight children, but to provide hospitality for the class when we are seeking a site for our 20th reunion.

Bill Dillon was in Boston for a short time in August on his way for a summer vacation in Maine. He is still located in Albany, N. Y., as an insurance engineer.

Charles Shea has entered the Army and has been assigned to the specialized training unit in medicine at St. Louis University.

Anthony Julian was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Judge Advocate General's Department at Ann Arbor, Michigan in August.

WILLIAM J. CUNNINGHAM
40 Tennyson Street, West Roxbury

 The old column is becoming one of birth announcements. And look who has his first! Jim Hickey had his first arrival, a little girl, in July. The fellow we'd have picked for a perennial bach a few years back.

Had a chance to talk with Malden Bill Sullivan, pardon me, with Principal Sullivan of the Brown Junior High and Elementary Schools in Malden. He has a new five month older to keep young Bill company. Also a boy.

John Dooley met Bill Murphy recently. Remember, Father Bill Murphy's nephew?

I hear Jim Sullivan is now in Stoneham. Is that right?

John Dorsey is working for Uncle Sam in the Army. John will have all the privates wearing flowers in their lapels. Nothing like looking smart all the time.

Hope the new State Commissioner of Education is tipped off about the fine job Pat Sullivan has been doing. Met Frannie O'Rourke a short while ago. He is the same good looking, smiling, friendly guy he was at the College. He is with the Internal Revenue in Boston.

How is Chuck Greelish doing in Springfield? I wish we would hear from him or about him.

Joe Hughes has been playing a good 83 at Franklin Park this summer.

Get those class insurance payments in. You war workers may as well pay for a couple of years. Comes under contributions on the old 1040 blank. Send them to Jim Hickey, 9 Herbertston Road, Forest Hills.

Pete McDermott is still at the U. S. Employment Bureau at 9 Beacon St., Boston.

I see John Fallon now and then. He's a successful dentist in West Roxbury.

1927

FRANCIS X. SULLIVAN
51 Presentation Road, Brighton

 Lieutenant Cornelius P. Cronin was married at St. Peter's Church, Cambridge, in August, to Miss Sarah B. Conley, sister-in-law of former Governor Hurley. The Lieutenant is a physical education instructor for the Navy in Iowa City.

Edward J. Kenealy was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Army Quartermaster Corps at Camp Lee, Virginia, in June.

Your reporter has been away and consequently has not been able to gather the news for you. He promises to make up for this in the November issue.

279 Bowdoin Street, Dorchester

 As you know, last Alumni Day was our 15th anniversary. Our representation was good in spite of war conditions. However, our class gift representation was disappointing. Notices were sent out pertaining to the class gift, and it is not too late to submit a contribution now. Send your check to Pete Carey, 927 Adams Street, Dorchester, Mass.

Lieutenant-Commander Henry Ballem has just returned from the Pacific and is due for another rating. Henry has spent two and a half years in the service already.

Lieutenant Freddie L'Ecuyer is with the Navy Transportation Division of Washington, D. C., utilizing his Boston and Maine experience.

Father Joe McGoldrick has been commissioned a chaplain in the Naval Reserve, assigned to William and Mary College, Virginia.

Dan Driscoll is the proud father of a baby boy born August 27, 1943. Daniel Michael Driscoll, Jr., is the name.

Ed Healy and Pete Carey are pushing the products of White Milk Co. Ed Covers the Braintree district.

The "Ken" Minihans and the "Dick" Condons were summering at Dennisport this year. Just a couple of poor kids.

First Lieutenant Bill Cushman, our illustrious Treasurer, was home on leave this summer and looked very militaristic. Bill is stationed in Mississippi.

The "Uphams Corner Squire," Ken Richards is located at Keesler Field, Mississippi as an instructor. Ken's "puppies" had a little going over, but I guess they are O.K. now.

Lieutenants Art Tuohy and John O'Loughlin are instructors with the Air Corps at Randolph Field, Texas. I wish I were a school teacher.

Has anybody attended Bill Killion's Fiesta down town lately?

Our political aspirant Paul McCarthy was married on August 21. He still represents the people out West Roxbury way.

Since the Varsity Club activities have been curtailed, Tom Gemelli has taken up air raid warden duties out in Brighton.

Jim Duffy was in town and is now working outside of Baltimore as Sales Manager for Union Carbon and Carbide Company.

HARLES W. O'BRIEN

10 Payson Road, Brookline

Add to the swelling roster of 33 benedicts Ed Roach, who is operating Green Acres, Inc. restaurant, and doing nicely, thank you.

Ray Callen has announced the arrival April 27 of Robert Brien, heir apparent, to the Callen fortune.

Your correspondent's humble apology to Lt. Col. Dick Reynolds who was listed as Captain in the last issue of the News; these boys step up in their ratings so rapidly that it's hard to keep track of them.

Dave O'Connor is a Lieutenant (j. g.) at Quonset Naval Station.

Most active in the ranks of labor is Ken Kelley, who is president of the New England Food Council and vice-president of the Massachusetts Federation of Labor.

At last report Bill Dunne was with the Army Weather Service in Iran (Persia to you Xenophon enthusiasts). The weather there should be plenty.

Frank Walsh is with the Army Medical Corps in New Guinea.

Had word from Mrs. Phil Dooley that Phil is stationed on Guadalcanal.

Billy Sullivan is a Lieutenant (j. g.) now stationed at the Naval Air Station at Jacksonville, Fla. Billy is one of our recent benedicts; the wonder is how he escaped so long.

Bob Perchard is also a Lieutenant (j. g.) in Naval Communications and is currently studying at Harvard.

Bill Ballou is a Lieutenant in the Army.

Fred Cassidy is a Lieutenant in the Army Air Force stationed in Texas. Your correspondent is once more the proud father of a baby girl who made her appearance at the outlandish hour of 4.30 a. m. June 2nd. Despairing of a boy, he named her Carol after himself.

Major Bob Grandfield has been called up for active service with the Boston City Hospital Unit and is presently at Devens.

The Class celebrated its tenth anniversary on Alumni Day this year in fitting fashion with the presentation of a gift of $1000 to the college. Hats off to the able and relentless contact committee of twenty and to the generous response of the class as a whole. There was a representative gathering at the Alumni dinner and the impromptu festivities which followed at the Kenmore Lounge Bar. One item of news that the reunion brought out is that Fort Normandin is the proud possessor of the only twins entered so far in the class annals. If I'm slighting anyone, a prompt protest is in order.

Former correspondent Jim Connolly is now assigned to the Navy Bureau of Aeronautics in Washington and reports that Johnny Lynch has been made a Lieutenant-Commander.

GEORGE E. McKINNON

44 Boutwell Street, Dorchester

 The class of '43 has already had a reunion of a sort. Early in the summer the fellows from Northwest-ern's V-7's school and the Marine contingent who left before graduation arrived home on furlough and had a meeting at the Statler. Among the new Ensigns were Wally Boudreau, John Carusone, Nick Flynn, Tom Kennedy, Louis Diegoli, Frank Power, Jake Condon, John Mahoney, Dick O'Brien and Ed O'Sullivan. Looking very fit were the Marine Second Lieutenants, Dan McCarthy, Ed McGillvery, John O'Donoghue and John Sargeant.

Eddie Lee is working as an analyst in the research department of Babson's Reports. Want a hot tip on the market? See Eddie.

We met Jim Considine the class jazz expert, at the Statler in August. Jim is in the groove for the Marines, stationed in Boston.

Frannie Moran is at Georgetown in the A. S. T. P.

The "Catholic gentleman," Tom Antico, is teaching Romance languages at Fordham. He asks his classmates to get in touch with him when passing through New York.

Paul Good, our star actor, has been attending the B. C. Dramatic School. He gave a terrific performance as St. Peter in the final production of a very good season, the choral drama, "The Acts of St. Peter."

John Rafferty sent along a letter full of news about the class. At present John is in Washington with the Bureau of Standards.

John Barney Connolly is at Fort Eustis, Va., in an anti-aircraft unit. Fort Eustis seems like a second Heights, since so many B. C. men call it home.

When John McNaught was last heard from he was at Newport News, Va. Walter Cassell, the baseballer, has been continuing his athletic career at Fort Devens. First baseman on the team he had the dubious honor of beating the Braves and the Red Sox. The last letter we had from Jim Graham told us he was still studying at the M. P. school at Camp Breckinridge, Ky.

Joe Dinneen has finished training at the cadre school at Camp Lee, Va., and hopes to go to O. C. S.

Hank Trainor, late of the "Heights," has been stationed at Huntsville, Texas, and is headed for A. S. T. P. Bob Lunny, class fashion plate, is now wearing the Navy's blue as an aviation cadet at Amherst.

Jim Duane has been given a medical discharge from the Marines.

Ensign Mike Holovak was married to Miss Edith Casavant of Natick this month. His best man was Chief Specialist Fred Naumetz. Ushering was Ensign Wally Boudreau. He has reported for duty in San Francisco. Lieutenant Vin Robinson, USMC, was married July 4 to Mary O'Sullivan of Arlington.

Ensign John Conlon was married to Marguerite Savaria of Chicopee in July.

Ensign Tom Kennedy is engaged to Miss Rosalie Curtin of Belmont.

Larry Ferriter entered the Coast Guard in August, reporting to New London, Conn.

Peter Caulfield, Lieutenant, U. S. Army, has been stationed at Dale Mabry Field, Florida. He visited the Heights in August.

Don Currivan played in the All-Star football game in Chicago.

John Larner has been stationed at Little Creek, Va. The Ensign seems to have had a workout.

Tom Meagher with the AAF, has been transferred to San Antonio, Texas.

Alexander Skene is in Santa Ana, Calif. Bob Galligan is at the ATB school at Camp Bradford, Va. Ernie Santosuosso is with the 196th Ord. Bn., at Camp Maxey, Texas.

Frank O'Malley and Tom O'Connor have been at Camp Grant, Illinois.

John McGarr was commissioned a second lieutenant at Grand Rapids, Michigan, September 6.

Bill Davis was commissioned a second lieutenant at Tech this month.

Marine Lieutenant Leo Sullivan was home on furlough from Quantico this month. His next assignment is California.

 Lieutenant Howard Murray, a flying Marine, is recuperating at Parris Island from an injury sustained in the line of duty. He was married

May 23 to Miss Alice Dolan Lynn.

Joe McCarron, Lieutenant, U. S. A. was married August 15 to Miss Margaret Grogan of Belmont. Joe is stationed in Aberdeen, Md. Another benedict is Tom McMahon, Aviation Cadet. He was wedded to Miss Ma Bates of North Weymouth at Reno, Nevada, where he is stationed. Jim Cronin, who travelled with Army to Australia, now shows up Iran.

Lieutenant (j. g.) John L. Sullivan is on active duty in the Navy as communications officer. Paul Sapante is also a J. G.

Ensign Ed McGrath has been assigned to a submarine squadron command staff in the Pacific.

A swell letter came from Sergeant Bob Kenney describing his travels around the British Isles.

Lieutenant Tom McDonald is serving production from a vantage point near the Kaiser Shipyards Vancouver, Washington.

A Spring engagement, Lieutenant Walter Colbert to Miss Louise O'Donoghue.

Ensigns Fred Sliney and Frank Devlin still together, find the South Sea lands not too romantic.

Ensigns John Gibbons, Bill Doonan and John E. Kelley were at the Submarine Chaser Training Center, Miami, Florida, at last reports.

Private John O'Connor visited the Heights on furlough from Indian Gap Military Reservation, Pa.

1943

 Robert Rehling, Army, is engaged to Miss Elizabeth Crowley of Dorchester.

Bob Crowley is at the Finance Training Center at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana.

Ensign Ed Madden was married Miss Rosemary Hackett of North Weymouth in July.

Lieutenant Tom Tullie, USMC, reported for duty to Camp Elliott, San Diego, California, the latter part August.

Ensign Sam Loscocco is engaged Miss Burckhart of Wollaston.

Private Ed Smith is stationed at Mississippi Southern College. So is Frank Conroy.

Ensign Tom Murray is engaged Miss Marie Hines of West Roxbury.

Are Your Dollars Buying All The Food They Can?

Something of every dollar you spend for food must go for the cost of bringing it to you . . . for transporting it and for selling it. And so, very often the difference between prices in one store, compared to those of another are simply the difference between one merchant's ability to conduct his business more economically than the other. Take A&P as example. Many of the good foods A&P sells are brought direct from their source . . . from farms and factories. This means that certain handling charges and expenses of transportation are cut from their cost. Then too, because A&P operates its Super Markets thriftily, further savings are made. And these savings are shared with A&P customers.
